About North Seattle College

northseattle.edu

North Seattle College is a comprehensive two-year, public-funded state college offering transfer degrees and over 60 career training programs. The College provides learning opportunities for a diverse group of approximately 16,000 students annually, including those pursuing college preparatory, English-as-a-second-language and continuing education. International students from 50 countries add to the multicultural experience.

Located in the Northgate neighborhood, five miles north of downtown, the friendly campus occupies 62 acres including a preserved wetland area and a P-patch. The campus originally consisted of 654,000 square feet of instructional and student services buildings designed in an award-winning Brutalistic architectural style. The Opportunity Center for Employment and Education Building provides 45,100 additional square feet, devoted to employment, educational and social services. With the completion of the Health Sciences and Student Resources renovation of the old Technology Building, campus facilities have expanded another 27,001 square feet. The new building houses a human biology and science center, a learning center, new food services, and gathering space for students.

Known for the quality of its faculty and instruction, including strong e-Learning and Integrated Studies programs, North is the starting point for many students who go on to colleges and universities around the country, including Cornell, Dartmouth, UC Berkley, Penn State, NYU, UW, EWU, WWU, WSU, CWU and SU. North consistently ranks among the top two-year colleges in the state for the number of students who transfer to the main University of Washington campus.

North also provides outstanding career training in emerging fields such as nanotechnology, green real estate and avionics electronics—programs enhanced by strong partnerships with business and industry.

The College offers numerous services for students, including academic advising, tutoring, counseling, career services, disability services, veteran services, a women's center, child care, multicultural student leadership programs, and wireless access.

North is one of the Seattle Colleges. Since its opening in 1970, it has helped over 309,000 students pursue their educational goals.

Checklist for Earning Your Degree or Certificate

- Know Where to Get Help
Use the “Services for Students” section of this handbook.
- Determine Your Educational Goal
Do you know your educational or career goal? There are services available on campus to help.
Counseling provides individualized career counseling and helps you develop career goals. Career exploration tools are available for a nominal fee with free interpretation. (206-934-3676)
Career Services helps students research career options and assists with the job search process. (206-934-6074)
Advising can help you evaluate academic skills, interests and goals. (206-934-3658)
- Educational Planning (Meet with an Advisor)
See an advisor for help with class selection and educational planning. If you have credits from other colleges, the advisor can do an “unofficial” evaluation of these credits. Working with an advisor, students develop an educational plan to assure degree requirements are completed on time. If pursuing a transfer degree, your plan will include the sequences of prerequisites for your intended major and admission requirements to your intended four-year institution.
- Evaluation of Incoming Credits
To avoid delays with evaluating credits, order your official transcript from each college you attended to be sent directly to North’s Admissions/Registration Office or to you personally (envelopes must remain sealed). When all transcripts have been received, complete the Application for Evaluation of Incoming Credits and submit it to the Admissions/Registration Office, along with your official transcripts if you had them sent to you. When you receive your official evaluation via email (approximately 8–12 weeks after the request for evaluation was received), be sure to check with an advisor regarding any remaining requirements. Please note: You must be registered for classes and paid tuition in order to submit an evaluation request. (Please see “Transfer Credit Evaluation” description under “Admissions/Registration/Records/Credentials” for more details).
- Graduation Application
After you register for your final quarter, complete the Application for Degree, Certificate or Diploma, and meet with an advisor or faculty coordinator, who will run a final degree audit and help you complete any necessary paperwork. Submit applications no later than three weeks prior to the start of your final quarter (see the “Graduation and Commencement Ceremony” description under “Admissions, Records, Registration and Credentials” for details).

College Transfer and Degrees

Transfer: northseattle.edu/college-transfer-students
Degrees: northseattle.edu/degrees

Associate of Arts Degree

This degree is a 90 credit college transfer degree. It provides a broad education in liberal arts and allows students to fulfill some or all of the general education requirements and prerequisite coursework for many four-year degrees in arts and sciences.

Associate of Science Degree

The Associate of Science transfer degrees are designed to allow students to complete many of the prerequisite math, science, and general education courses required for those considering a major in science, math, or a health profession at a four-year university or college. NSC offers a general Associate of Science degree as well as an Associate of Science Option #1 and Option #2. Students should consult with an advisor to learn about these options and to determine which degree will best serve their needs.

Associate in Business

A 90-credit transfer degree designed for those who wish to transfer and major in Business. It fulfills general education and business major prerequisites for many Washington state four-year colleges and universities.

Fine Arts Degrees and Certificates

Associate of Fine Arts Degree/Certificate in Fine Arts

North offers an Associate of Fine Arts degree (AFA) in Art, as well as a Certificate in Fine Arts (CFA) in Art, Jewelry Design and Acting. The Associate of Fine Arts degree is designed to fulfill some of the general education requirements of many Arts and Sciences majors and, at the same time, to provide the student with an opportunity to concentrate in a major area of study in Art. The AFA degree is not universally recognized as a transfer degree, but most courses do transfer individually. Students seeking a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Fine Arts should review NSC Associate of Arts degree requirements and consult with their advisor and their intended university. The CFA programs are intended as concentrated programs for students who wish to pursue and receive certifications in a program centered totally on their interest in Art or Acting. The CFA is not accepted as a transfer degree. AFA and CFA students work with a faculty advisor in their area of study.

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS

Career Training Degrees and Certificates

Degrees: northseattle.edu/degrees

Certificates: northseattle.edu/certificates

North offers many career training degrees and certificates which prepare students for employment in a specific field. You may choose a two-year Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree program or a Certificate program in Accounting, Business, Early Childhood Education, Electronics and Engineering Technologies, Health/Medical, Information Technology, Real Estate, Communications, Business and Media, Nanotechnology or Watch Technology. View the course catalog, quarterly schedule, or website for further program information.

Some of the professional-technical degrees and courses may transfer to specific four year colleges and universities. Information on transferable professional technical degrees is available in Advising.

Bachelor of Applied Science

The Seattle Colleges are accredited at the baccalaureate level by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities to confer four-year degrees such as the Bachelor of Applied Science (B.A.S.) and others. These degrees build on associate degrees and provide workplace skills in specific career areas. When compared to traditional bachelor's programs, applied baccalaureate degrees more heavily incorporate hands-on learning focused on a particular industry or discipline. All programs emphasize internship opportunities and may offer credit for prior learning and workplace experience. North Seattle is offering two BAS degrees: International Business which began in the Fall of 2013 and Application Development which began in the Fall of 2014.

Application Development B.A.S.

The B.A.S. in Application Development provides a bachelor's degree opportunity for students who already have Information Technology (IT) related degrees such as the Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.). The Application Development Degree focuses on the skills needed for software developers and programmers who develop, create, and modify general computer applications software, mobile applications, or specialized utility programs. It also trains students to analyze user needs and develop software solutions and design or customize software for client use. Emphasis is on solving real world application problems that meet customer needs.

Early Childhood Education B.A.S.

North's Early Childhood Education Bachelor of Applied Science (ECE B.A.S.) degree provides an opportunity for students who have completed an associate degree in Early Childhood Education or a related program to continue their studies and earn a Bachelor of Applied Science degree. The degree provides professional development training for early care and education professionals, allowing them to keep pace with the increasing professionalization of the field. The curriculum is designed to align with accreditation standards established by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) and the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). An applied four-year degree in Early Childhood Education that builds on practical early care and learning skills is in rapidly increasing demand by preschool providers throughout greater Seattle and the state of Washington.

International Business B.A.S.

The B.A.S. in International Business provides a bachelor's degree opportunity for students who already have business and accounting non-transfer associate degrees such as an associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.). The International Business degree focuses on the skills needed for management of businesses involved in importing and/or exporting or with international supply chain. Courses will teach business practices in the context of work in an international arena and stress cultural competency.

From MyNorth you can make changes to your schedule (add or drop a class), view your registered and waitlisted classes and save classes you want to take in the future to a Favorites Folder, similar to putting items in an online shopping cart. Visit mynorth.seattlecolleges.edu.

Online Services Hours

Students are responsible for self-disclosing their disability to DS (the contact must be by the student and not a representative of the student) and for providing documentation in order to determine eligibility. Documentation should be typed, signed, and on letterhead from a licensed professional qualified to diagnose the disability. Indoor Air Quality (Fragrance & Pollutant-free) northseattle.edu/policies/indoor-air-quality

North Seattle College recognizes that suitable indoor air quality is important in fostering a healthful teaching/learning environment. North advocates a pollutant-free and fragrance-free environment within budgetary, legal and regulatory constraints.

Smoking Policy

seattlecolleges.edu/district/studentlife/studentrules.aspx#safety?

Effective Fall Quarter 2015, North Seattle College is a tobacco and smoke-free campus. The college decided to go smokeless after significant study of the issue and recommendations by various committees, as well as thoughtful dialogue regarding feedback in a college-wide survey last year—during which 70% of respondents voted in favor of going smoke-free.

The following products are included in North Seattle College being a tobacco-free campus: cigarettes, cigars, pipes, hookah, all forms of smokeless tobacco, electronic cigarettes, clove cigarettes and other alternative products made primarily with tobacco.

E-cigarettes are not FDA approved devices, and they are banned in public places in King County, Washington. Products approved by the Food and Drug Administration for the uses of mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease are permitted under this rule.

This decision is in step with Public Health Seattle and King County recommendations and puts North among the more than 1,000 colleges nationwide that are now tobacco and smoke-free. The new rule also reflects the wishes of North's Student Administrative Council, which voted unanimously that the campus should be smoke-free.

COLLEGE POLICIES

Academic Standards/Student Progress

Academic Recognition

Students are recognized for outstanding academic achievements by making the Dean's List or President's List.

Dean's List: Student must have 10 or more credits per quarter and a 3.5 GPA for the quarter.

President's List: Student must have accumulated 30 or more credits and a 3.8 or higher cumulative GPA.

Student Progress

Students are expected to make satisfactory academic progress while enrolled at the Seattle College District. Academic progress is defined in terms of a student's grade point average (GPA) and how much time a student takes to complete a degree or certificate program. Time is a function of credits or clock hours attempted and earned. Students who do not demonstrate satisfactory academic progress may be subject to corrective actions.

Students must maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0. Students who do not meet this standard may be subject to corrective actions.

Students enrolled in degree or certificate programs must, on a quarterly basis, successfully complete at least 75 percent of the credits or clock hours. Students who do not achieve this completion rate may be subject to corrective actions.

Minimum Standards—Financial Aid

Students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 and earn a quarterly GPA of 1.0 or better. In addition to meeting the Pace of Progression requirements published in the Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy. Students on financial aid who earn less than the required GPA, fail to meet pace of progression requirements, or fail to complete 50 percent of the credit hours for which they enroll, will receive a notice of cancellation. Please refer to the Financial Aid satisfactory academic progress policy for the entire policy and reinstatement requirements.

Student Progress/Specific Programs

Some programs (such as health medical programs) have specific requirements for satisfactory progress and continuation in their programs. Contact the division offices for specific program information.

Reinstatement

Students who may have been dismissed from school due to academic and/or financial aid guidelines will be notified of the process for reinstatement. They can also contact the Advising Office, Financial Aid Office, or their specific program office for information.

Grading System

Grades are not mailed. Approximately 7–10 days after the end of the quarter students can access their grades via the Web at northseattle.edu/kiosk.

The Seattle College District uses a numerical grading system. Numerical grades may be considered equivalent to letter grades as follows:

Letter	Numeric	Letter	Numeric
A	4.0 - 3.9	C	2.1 - 1.9
A -	3.8 - 3.5	C -	1.8 - 1.5
B+	3.4 - 3.2	D+	1.4 - 1.2
B	3.1 - 2.9	D	1.1 - 1.0
B -	2.8 - 2.5	F	0.0
C +	2.4 - 2.2

See course syllabus for grading criteria.

Many programs and individual course sequences require a minimum of a 2.0 grade in order to pursue additional courses. Be sure to know the specific requirements for your courses, program or college-transfer major. Please consult with your advisor or counselor.

Grade-point average (GPA) is determined by dividing total points earned by total credit hours attempted.

I	Incomplete
S	Satisfactory with Credit
N	Audit
NC	No Credit
W	Official Withdrawal
Y	Ongoing Course

See SCD catalog for grade descriptions. For questions regarding grades, contact the records coordinator at 206-934-3665.

Plagiarism

To take the words or ideas of someone else and present them as your own is plagiarism and is unacceptable in academic life. The nature and causes of plagiarism may cover a range from the accidental to the dishonest. Examples of plagiarism encountered in academic writing may include the following:

COLLEGE POLICIES

- incorporating into your own writing, without proper acknowledgment, words and sentences from a print, electronic, or oral source
- inserting longer passages (such as four or five consecutive sentences or whole paragraphs) of somebody else's writing into your own without acknowledgement
- paraphrasing so closely or so extensively from a source that sentences and ideas really belong to the original writer
- submitting as your own whole essays written by another person or taken from a printed source or off the internet
- receiving so much help from another person that the work could not honestly be called your own.

Students, by their attendance here, agree to adhere to the Student Code of Conduct which states, in part, that "academic dishonesty, to include cheating, plagiarism, or knowingly furnishing false information to the college" may bring disciplinary action. The policy of the faculty is to exercise its professional judgment as to the nature and cause of each case of suspected or proven plagiarism and to respond in a manner suited to the case. Responses may include the following:

1. Require that a piece of writing be revised to eliminate the plagiarism.
2. Deny credit for a piece of writing in which plagiarism has been found.
3. Record a "0" grade in the student's class record for this project, thereby lowering the student's final grade.
4. Refer the student to the Vice President of Student Development Services for disciplinary action.

Complaint Process/How to Resolve Complaints

seattlecolleges.edu/district/policies/polPro.aspx?policyID=pro370

First: Attempt to Resolve the Complaint Informally

If you have a complaint, the best and first step is to try to settle your complaint through the informal process. Here's how it works:

Step 1: If you have a complaint, first talk directly with the college employee.

Step 2: If this does not provide a satisfactory result, the next step is to discuss your complaint with the employee's immediate supervisor.

Step 3: Investigation/Fact-Finding—The supervisor/dean will then work toward a resolution with the parties.

It is essential to provide the following information:

- The facts or evidence surrounding your complaint
- What you have done to try to resolve the complaint
- Your proposed resolution to resolve the complaint

You may request the complaint officer's assistance in obtaining a resolution during the informal process.

The informal process must be initiated and completed in a timely manner.

COLLEGE POLICIES

Second: Resolving a Formal Complaint

If your complaint remains unresolved after following the above informal process, you may then file a formal complaint. The steps are as follows:

Step 1: Filing the Complaint

To be considered under the formal process, a complaint must be filed in writing with the campus complaints officer by the final day of the quarter following the quarter in which the problem occurred, with the exception of a grade complaint. For the purposes of complaints, the quarter which follows spring quarter is fall quarter. You must specify the facts and other grounds on which the complaint is based, attach relevant supporting documents and forward to Martin Logan, Complaints Officer, College Center Building, room 2160A.

Step 2: Respondent Has Opportunity to Reply

If the complaints officer determines that the complaint does not qualify to be addressed through the formal process, that officer must inform the student in writing within five working days. The student may obtain review of that notice of complaint disqualification by filing a written request with the complaints officer. If the complaints officer determines that the complaint does qualify as such, the grievance officer will send a copy of the formal complaint to the respondent and supervisor within five working days of receipt of your complaint. The respondent is required to reply in writing to the grievance officer and the respondent's supervisor within 10 working days of the formal complaint. Please note that faculty members are not usually available during periods when the College is not in session.

Step 3: Opportunity to Resolve

The grievance officer will forward the respondent's written reply to you within five working days of receiving it. If you, the complainant, find the response is unsatisfactory, you may submit written notice of your dissatisfaction to the grievance officer within five working days of your receipt of the notice.

Step 4: Resolution Conference

Within five working days of the receipt of your notice that the response is unsatisfactory, the grievance officer will schedule a conference. This conference will include you, the respondent, and the respondent's supervisor. It will be held within the next 10 working days, or as soon thereafter as feasible. The intent of this conference is to reach a resolution. The grievance officer will provide a written summary to all attendees within 10 working days.

Step 5: Appealing the Result

If you believe your complaint has not been resolved to your satisfaction, you may request action from the appropriate vice president. You can file an appeal within five working days with the grievance officer, who will forward it to the vice president within five working days for review. This administrator shall review the complaint and documentation and render a written decision within 10 working days or as soon as there after feasible. The administrator may accept, reject, or modify any of the previous action(s) in the matter, and/or take other actions(s). This decision of the reviewing administrator shall be the final decision of the district on that complaint, and shall be served in writing to the student complainant and others deemed appropriate.

You may read the entire policy and procedure at: <http://apps.leg.wa.gov/WAC/default.aspx?cite=132F-121-060>.

Grade Complaints (Formal)

northseattle.edu/orientation/responsibilities?search_standing=1

A student may formally grieve only the final grade received in a course.

A formal grade complaint must be filed no later than the last day of the quarter that follows the quarter that the disputed grade was received. The exception to this is that a complaint regarding a spring quarter grade may be filed through the last day of the following fall quarter.

The formal grade complaint process will follow the same timelines as the formal complaint process. SCD WAC 132F-120-090 (370.40)

Your complaint must be filed in writing to Martin Logan, Complaints Officer, College Center Building, room 2160A. Complaint must include all supporting documentation indicating grade received, together with (a) the reason for the complaint, specifying as completely and as accurately as possible, (b) all pertinent performance scores and attendance data and (c) a copy of the course syllabus.

The evaluation of course mastery is exclusively within the province of the instructor, and so a grade change may be initiated only by that instructor. However, if a formal grade is ultimately reviewed by the vice president of instruction, and s/he finds that the grade was issued for an improper reason or was arbitrary and capricious, or otherwise unlawful, the vice president may change the grade in the records of the college.

Your Privacy: FERPA—Notification of Rights northseattle.edu/policies/student-confidentiality-ferpa

Confidentiality of Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. Information about Seattle College Students is collected, maintained, and used to meet the college's educational objectives. Students are protected against improper disclosure of their records. These rights begin the first day of class and extend to all former students.

Student Rights and Educational Records

COLLEGE POLICIES

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the College receives a request for access.

A student should submit to the campus individual(s) or office(s) a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The College official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the College official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA.

A student who wishes to ask the College to amend a record should write the College official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why it should be changed.

If the College decides not to amend the record as requested, the College will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student's right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to provide written consent before the College discloses personally identifiable information from the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

The College discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the College has contracted or is assigned to provide a service instead of using College employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent, or a clinical, intern, or extern site); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the College.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5901

Academic Load: The total number of credit hours for which a student is registered in one quarter.

Academic Year: The period comprised of Fall, Winter and Spring Quarters. Summer quarter is separate from the standard academic year.

Advisor: An academic advisor or faculty coordinator who helps students plan course work based on the requirements of their program and specific educational goals.

Associate of Arts Degree (AA): A 90-credit college transfer degree. It provides a broad liberal arts education and allows students to fulfill some or all of the general education requirements and prerequisite coursework for many four-year degrees in arts and sciences.

Associate of Science Degree (AS): An Associate of Science transfer degree is designed to allow students to complete many of the prerequisite math, science, and general education courses required for those considering a major in science, math, or a health profession at a four-year university or college. NSC offers a general Associate of Science degree as well as Associate of Science Option One and Option Two. Students should consult with an advisor to learn about these options and to determine which degree will best serve their needs.

Associate in Business Degree (AB): A 90-credit college transfer degree designed for students intending to transfer to a four-year college or university and major in business.

Associate of Applied Science Degree (AAS): This degree prepares students for employment through development of technical and related skills, and instruction in academic subjects appropriate to the occupational field.

Audit: To audit a course means to register for and attend class without receiving a grade or credit. An "N" grade rather than credit is recorded on the transcript.

Bachelor's Degree: The academic title granted by four-year colleges and universities upon the successful completion of (usually) four years of prescribed study (including the two-years of coursework completed at North Seattle College). This degree is sometimes called a "baccalaureate" degree.

Certificate: Some of the professional-technical programs lead to an AAS degree and others to a certificate. The certificate programs consist primarily of training related to a specific career area; whereas, the AAS degree also includes additional allied supporting and general education coursework.

Challenge Test: Some divisions allow students to take a test in order to demonstrate their knowledge in a particular subject area. Students who do well on challenge tests may be exempt from taking a particular course and/or may receive credit for that course.

Class Schedule: A quarterly online or print publication containing information on the courses, times and sections to be offered.

Counselor: A person trained in psychology who helps students solve problems, become more knowledgeable about themselves, set goals and make decisions relative to their personal, social, educational and vocational concerns.

Course Waiver: A student may be excused from enrolling in a required course on the basis of a high placement test score, previous acquisition of the skills taught in the course, a passing score on a challenge test or other reasons. Division policies vary relative to the granting of credit for "waived" courses.

Credit/Credit Hour: The words "credit" and "hour" are often used synonymously. For the majority of courses, the number of credits offered equals the number of hours in a class per week for that course. (A five-credit course requires five hours in class each week.) NOTE: Your tuition is based on the total number of credit hours you register for, but you receive credit on your transcript only for the number of credit hours in which you receive a passing grade.

Curriculum: The group of courses required for a particular degree or certificate.

Direct Transfer Agreement (DTA): The Direct Transfer Agreement is an agreement between community, technical, and two-year colleges and participating four-year public and private Washington state colleges and universities that assures the transfer of credit with an AA, AS or AB degree into these colleges and universities, but not automatic admission, since each institution has separate admission criteria such as GPA, residency, core requirements or major preparation.

Educational Plan: An education plan is a roadmap towards a college degree and an outline of the course-work required to complete an educational goal/program of study. Working with an advisor, students develop an educational plan to assure that you complete your degree requirements in a timely manner. If you are pursuing a transfer degree, your plan will include the sequences of prerequisites for your intended major and admission requirements to your intended four-year institution.

Electives: Courses which students “elect” to enroll as “free choice” courses, as opposed to “required” courses that the student must take to fulfill graduation requirements.

Full-time/Part-time Student: A full-time student is defined as being enrolled in at least 12 credits by Veterans’, Financial Aid, Social Security, and International Programs.

Grade-Point Average: Each grade you earn in a course is assigned a number of points. Your GPA is based on the total number of points earned and the total number of quarter hours attempted.

Humanities: Includes courses in art, communication, drama, English, foreign language, humanities, and music.

Liberal Studies: The general education courses in the humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, and social sciences.

Major: A program of study at a college or university that a student chooses to study in-depth in order to earn a four-year bachelor’s degree.

Prerequisite: The requirement(s) that must be met before a student may enroll in a particular course or program. A prerequisite might be completion of a class before enrollment in a more advanced class, or a satisfactory score on a placement test. It is imperative that you read the course description or program requirements in the catalog to learn of the prerequisites.

Professional Technical Studies: Includes courses that prepare you for a job. These studies tend to be “terminal,” i.e., they are not intended to transfer to four-year colleges and universities, although there are some exceptions.

Sciences, Natural: Courses in anatomy, astronomy, biology, chemistry, computer science, environmental science, general science, geology, health, oceanography, physics, physiology, engineering, meteorology, physical anthropology, and physical geography.

Social Science: Courses in American ethnic studies, anthropology, economics, environmental science, geography, history, international studies, philosophy, political science, psychology, social science, sociology and women’s studies.

Syllabus: An outline or brief statement of the main points of a text, lecture or course of study.

Transcript: A copy of your academic record, showing courses completed and grades and credits earned. To be “official”, students must request to have their official transcripts from other institutions sent directly to NSC or they can be hand delivered to the Admissions/Registration Office in a sealed envelope.

Transcript Evaluation: Students transferring from another institution should have their transcripts evaluated to determine how many courses previously taken might be applied to their North Seattle College requirements. Transcripts may be evaluated in the Registrar’s Office when working toward a North Seattle College degree. Advisors may do unofficial evaluations.

Transferability: Classes that transfer to four-year college and universities are generally those numbered 100 and above in the college catalog and include general education courses listed in the Areas of Knowledge (Visual, Literary and Performing Arts, Individuals, Cultures and Societies, and Natural World) as well as transferable electives listed on the AA worksheet; however there are exceptions. If you complete an AA transfer degree, you can include a maximum of 15 credits of “normally non-transferable courses” numbered 100 and above in your degree. There are also certain professional-technical programs and courses that may transfer to specific colleges or universities. If you are uncertain whether a course is transferable, check with an advisor or consult your transfer institution’s course equivalency guide.

Work-Study: The opportunity to earn part of your educational costs while attending college. Work-study allocations are based on a student’s eligibility for federal or state Financial Aid.
